Welcome!

WELCOME to your AIM High Internship. We have many activities planned for you over the next three weeks and we are excited to get started. Please look over this workbook to get a sense of the various types of items we will be covering. Be sure to bring this workbook to your workplace each day and to our seminar on Friday each week.

Goals of Your AIM High Internship

Our goals for you fall under three categories (Work Readiness, College Preparedness and Independent Character Building). Details for what we hope to accomplish together are below.

Work Readiness

- Have an interesting work experience you can write about, reflect on and grow from.
- Learn what it means to be held accountable for performance.
- Experience the pleasure and fulfillment a good job can provide.
- Be inspired to do what it takes to reach college success.

College Preparedness

- Develop a list of safety, target and reach schools to which you are planning to apply.
- Complete the Common Application.
- Gather materials for supplemental college applications.
- Develop a greater familiarity with the financial aid process.

Character Building

- Have an opportunity to impress people.
- Feel pride in doing a job well.
- Solve problems.
- Learn how to access resources.
- Build a closer relationship with your mentors.

Components of Your AIM High Internship

The Internship Workbook

This workbook contains resources, worksheets and projects to be used throughout your internship experience and into your Senior year. The resources are meant to compliment the worksheets so they are easier to complete. Each week we will go over certain items and worksheets that are to be completed by specific deadlines. See the "What you should be working on this week" sheets and the Internship Calendar for more details. You will have time allocated at your mentors' workplace to work on this important college prep material (ideally, at least an hour each day). We will go over the worksheets at our weekly Friday seminar.

The different types of documents in this workbook include:

- Resources: Materials that will help you complete worksheets.
- Worksheets: Activities that you will complete on your own throughout the internship experience.
- Projects: Activities that will require you to engage your mentors to complete. Be sure to plan accordingly, as you will need to reach out to your mentors and work around their schedules to complete these assignments.

Your Work Week

Monday through Thursday, 9AM-5PM

Your mentors are working hard to get you quickly acclimated to their company and create meaningful work experiences for you. You will work out specific hours for your internship that may vary slightly from those posted above. Your aim for this work experience, in addition to doing a great job should include to act professional and engaged throughout your time at your mentor's workplace. We will go over a more detailed list of expectations we hold for you and what you can expect from this experience at the Internship Orientation.

The Weekly Seminar

Fridays, 9AM-5PM

As you know, you will be working at your mentors' companies Monday through Thursday. On Fridays we will host a seminar, bringing together all the AIM High Interns, to:

- Process your work experience as a group
- Go over resources and worksheets from the Internship Workbook
- Hear from guest speakers from real college admissions departments to offer advice on completing applications, finding the right fitting schools and navigating the application and financial aid process.

Weekly

In the first week of the program you will design your weekly performance

Performance Evaluation

evaluation. At the end of each week you will meet with your "internship supervisor" to discuss how work was the past week, what you enjoyed, did not enjoy, what you did well, where you could improve, etc.

Special EventAugust 9th

As part of this experience, we have some activities planned outside of the workday. These will take places on August 19^{th} . Details are as follows:

Thursday, August 8th

5:30-7:30PM

Financial Aid Workshop

Location: 954 W Washington #430

Please invite your parents/guardians to join us.

This event includes dinner.

Expectations and Responsibilities

Below are Company That Care's expectations for you to uphold during your internship experience.

Act

Professionally

- Be on time
- Work a full day (Monday Thursday)
- Dress appropriately
- Do your highest quality work

Convey a positive attitude

- Positively contribute to the work environment and organization
- Be open to all types of work
- Smile

Be a Learner

- Explore the organization, the different roles and functions people play
- Begin to think about what types of work you enjoy, discover your strengths and weaknesses, where you can improve

Provide your own lunch

Except the first day, unless discussed otherwise with your mentors. Companies That Care will provide lunch on Fridays.

Manage your own transportation.

You do not have to pay for your transportation but you do have to manage it. If you work in the city, you will take the CTA or Metra. If you work in the suburbs, other arrangements will be made and you will be contacted individually. Google Maps (www.maps.google.com) is a great way to plan your route and to see how long it should take you to get to work.

Performance Expectations for Friday Practicum

- Arrive on time (9:00am)
- Bring completed assignments with you
- Participate in group discussions
- Do your work
- Stay focused
- Ask questions! Make sure you let people know when you do not understand what is going on

Designing Your Weekly Performance Evaluation

Please involve your mentors in this project.

An important part of any job is evaluation. Typically, an employee is given a performance evaluation annually. However, some companies may conduct evaluations quarterly or semi-annually. A performance evaluation is a great chance to hear how the company thinks you are doing. It can also be a great time to sit down with your supervisor and discuss how work is going from your perspective as well as any changes you might see in the future of your employment at that company (salaries changes, changes in responsibilities, professional development opportunities, etc.)

Many employers have several performance categories (called "competencies" in some places) that are applied to every employee, regardless of their actual job.

Your task is to find out how your employer evaluates performance and then design your performance evaluation rubric with your mentor or internship supervisor. Below is a template to get you started. Please add/modify "expectations" as you see appropriate. Try and tailor your evaluation to your work experience. Once you and your mentor have agreed on the expectations for your performance, please list them on the subsequent Weekly Performance Evaluation sheets.

Professionalism

Works with minimal supervision Performs tasks efficiently Dresses appropriately with good hygiene

Arrives on time

Communication

Begins working on his/her own Communicates effectively with co-workers Communicates effectively with supervisor

Engagement

Has a positive attitude
Recognizes mistakes
Takes initiative
Asks appropriate questions

Quality Work Product

Puts forth his/her best effort Produces high quality work Finishes work by the deadline

Follows directions

Accepts constructive criticism

Getting Ready to Work Projects and Worksheets

In this part of the workbook, you will be completing worksheets and projects that will help you:

- Explore your academic and personal interests
- Research careers that match your interests
- Process your work experience
- Better understand your mentoring organization

Sign Up for What's Next Illinois

What's Next Illinois (www.whatsnextillinois.org) is an online resource offered by the Illinois Student Assistance Commission (www.college.zone.com) and College Zone (www.college.zone.com) to help students navigate the College Prep process. It has some great information on the application and financial aid process as well as interactive tools to help you figure out what careers and college majors might suit you best. But you need to set up a free account to take advantage of many of the resources.

Creating a Professional Email Address

How to Sign Up for What's Next Illinois

- 1. When you begin you will have to provide an email address. If you do not already have a professional email address now is the time to create one. A professional email should be some variation of your first and last name with minimal numbers. For example:
 - o firstname.lastname@gmail.com
 - o first.middleinitial.last@yahoo.com
 - o last.first3@email.com

Why College Pays

Did you know that you can make over $1 Million more dollars in a lifetime with a college degree over a high school degree? That's right, a $40,000 investment (what the average person pays for college over 4 years) can turn into $1,000,000. See the chart below to see how education can affect your lifetime earnings.

Matching Your Interests with Potential Careers

Complete the worksheets below to get a better understanding of your own interests and to explore various careers that might best suit your interests.

Completing "The Career Key"

- 1. Go to www.whatsnextillinois.org
- 2. Click "Log on" and enter your username and password. (Look on Worksheet: Sign up for What's Next Illinois if you don't remember your username and password)
- 3. On the top row, click "Career Planning"
- 4. Then click "Learn About Yourself"
- 5. Scroll down and click "The Career Key"

Follow the instructions.

Researching Your Careers of Interest

- 6. When you come to the last page, scroll to the bottom of the page and select "Use these results to find careers that match my interests." You are now viewing a list of careers that the computer thinks best matches your interests. Read about some of your search results.
- 7. Research two careers of interest and answer the questions on the next page. You can conduct internet research, talk to professionals and use some of the additional resources in the next few pages to help you.

Understanding an Organization Chart

Please involve your mentors in this project.

Directions: An organization chart (or org chart) maps how responsibilities within a company are accounted for. An org chart in a law firm or nonprofit may look very different. Org charts can be helpful to understand how different departments and people within an organization relate to each other. In other words, who is "the boss of" whom. An example of an org chart is below. Your assignment is to obtain an organization chart of your company and figure out where your mentors fall in the org chart.

Incl	ude	у	our	•
org	cha	rŧ	he	re

1. Obtain an org chart of your company or ask someone to draw one for you. Paste or insert the org chart here.

Add your mentors to the org chart

- 2. Figure out where each of your mentors falls within the chart. Write it on the chart (above) along with their job title. Circle your mentors' boxes on the org chart
- 3. Answer the following questions:

4.	Who is the most senior person in the office? What is his/her name and title?
5.	Who is your mentor's boss?
6.	Who is another person who is at the same level as your mentor? What is their name and job?
7.	How many years will it likely be before your mentor is at his/her boss' level?

Interviewing a Colleague

Please involve your mentors in this project.

Directions: One of the great ways to find out more information about careers in which you have interest is to talk to people in that field. This is also a great way to find out what types of jobs exist and how one typically steps in to these types of roles. Complete the interview assignment below to learn more about a job at your company.

Identify a Job of Interest

1. Talk with your mentor about what jobs interest you in the company and have them help you identify someone to interview who does holds one of those jobs.

Set up an interview

2. If you have your potential interviewee's contact info feel free to contact them yourself and tell them about your assignment. This is a great chance to practice your professional email writing skills. You can also ask your mentor to help you setup up the interview. You do not need to ask for more than 30 minutes of your interviewee's time.

Conduct the Interview

- 3. Be sure to cover the following four topics in your interview and take plenty of notes (you will need notes to write a summary)
 - Personal Background/History- Ask your interviewee to tell you his/her story, where they grew up, what they were interested in high school, where they went to college, what they studied, and all the jobs leading up to their current role. Also ask them about their expectations, as a child, for college and a job. If their reality is different than their expectations, ask them what caused the change.
 - Job Description- Inquire about what exactly they do. What is their role in the company? Try to get a picture of their average day and major responsibilities.
 - Organization- Ask about the company itself and their department. Do they like the company, the people they work, etc?
 - Advice- As a young person interested in what they do, ask for advice s/he might have for someone like yourself.
- 4. When you're done, THANK the person for giving you their valuable time for the interview.

Write a one-page Summary

Draft a one-page summary of what you learned from this person. Be sure to summarize what they shared with you from each of the four categories. Reflect on how your interview impacted your perspective on this particular type of work.

Evaluating Your Company as a Company That Cares

A Company That Cares is one that makes outstanding commitments to their employees, workplaces and communities as defined by the 10 Characteristics of a Company That Cares. Getting Ready for College

Projects and Worksheets

In this part of the workbook, you will be completing worksheets and projects that will help you:

- Identify colleges that are a good fit
- Keep track of colleges that interest you
- Better understand the college admissions process
- Complete the Common Application
- Keep track of important steps and deadlines in the college application process

Facts About Me for the College Prep Process (Week 1)

Directions: When beginning to identify colleges that might be a good fit for you, it is really important to know some things about your own academic standing as well as what you want out of your college experience. Fill out the worksheet below as a reference to see how well you match up to your colleges of interest.

Class Standing	 My Cumulative GPA is
	My Class Rank is # of a total of students.
	 Converted to a percentage, this is%. (i.e 25/125 = .2, which means you are in the top 20%)
	 So I am in the top 10% 25% 50% none of the above of my class.
Extracurriculars	 My highest ACT Score is I want to make sure my college has the following extracurricular offerings (basketball team, jazz band, newspaper, radio station, etc):
Careers	3. When I grow up I think I might want to be:

Safety vs. Target vs. Reach Schools

Resource: Safety vs. Target vs. Reach Schools

One of the most important steps in the college prep process is creating a list of colleges that you would like to apply to that will also meet your necessary criteria to ensure you will be happy and succeed. This criteria can include the schools size, graduation rates, percentage of students that live on campus, location, academic programs, extracurricular activities, demographic makeup, etc.

AIM High suggests you apply to at least 8 colleges of varying selectivity- 2 safety schools, 4 target schools and 2 reach schools. Each school on your list should be an institution you would be happy to attend that meets your educational needs. Below is a chart to help you figure out which category to assign to your schools of interest.

Safety

- Your GPA, test scores and class rank make it almost certain that you should be admitted.
- You believe you will get a good education and be happy there.

Target

- Your GPA, test scores and class rank fall in the middle 50th percentile of admitted students for most categories.
- You have a good chance of being admitted to these colleges, but there is also the possibility of denial.
- You would be very happy to attend one of these realistic choices.

Reach

- The majority of students admitted have higher GPAs, test scores and class rankings than you.
- You have a small chance of being accepted but perhaps you possess some outstanding quality or skill they seek (i.e. trombone player, debater) or you have a previous relationship with the college (i.e. attended summer program, family member attended).

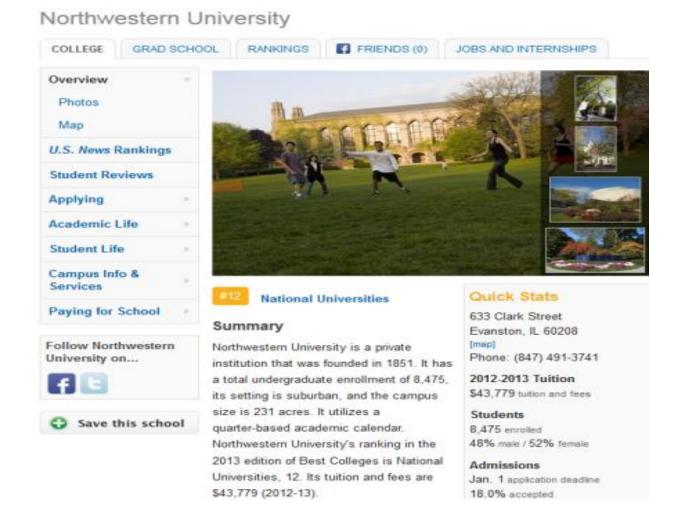

Resources for Researching Schools and Finding a Good Fit (Weeks 1, 2, 3)

Below are some resources you can use to help find good fitting schools. Each of these sites is unique so be sure to try them all.

U.S. News and World Report College Rankings Online

If you already know of a college that you would like to get more information about, below is a link to a site that will provide some quick facts.

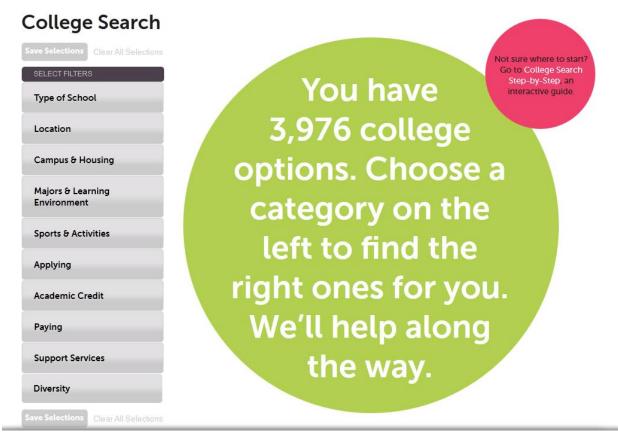

- 1. Go to: http://colleges.usnews.rankingsandreviews.com/college
- 2. On the right hand side of the home screen find the "College Search" field
- 3. Enter the name of the school and click "Go"
- 4. Scroll down to find General Information about that college. Be sure to navigate through the different tabs (Applying, Academic Life, Student Life, etc.)

College Board's Big Future College Search

This site will also allow you to set various criteria for what you want in a college and will send you matches based on your criteria.

1. Go to https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/college-search

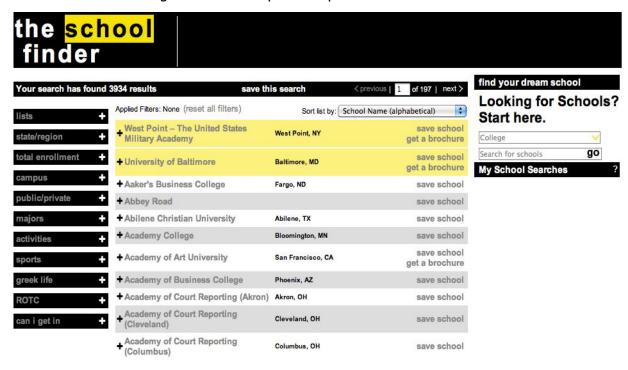

- 2. Click the different grey tabs on the left and answer the questions on each page about your preferences as best you can. If you don't understand the question or don't have an opinion, select the "Don't Care" option on the sliding tool to the left.
- 3. Click "Close and See Results" at the end of each grouping of questions. You will see the number of college matches narrow as you answer questions about your college preferences.
- 4. If you have no search results when you have completed the questions under each category, go back and select "Don't Care on the categories that are less important to you.
- 5. Explore the websites of any colleges of interest from your results .
- 6. Record them on the Colleges of Interest Tracker in this workbook if you think you may want to apply to this college.

Princeton Review School Finder

This site will allow you to set various criteria for what you want in a college and will send you matches based on your criteria.

- 1. Go to www.princetonreview.com.
- 2. Scroll down and look in the bottom right for the "School Search" section with the orange star
- 3. Select "Find Your College" from the drop down options

- 4. Navigate the site by clicking on the black boxes on the left hand side, answering questions about aspects of college life as best you can.
- 5. After every question, press "Apply Filters" to have the site narrow your choices
- 6. If you answer all the questions and have no matches, go back and edit some of your filters of factors that are not as important to you and recreate the list

CollegeData.com

This is another great site with many tools. Visit www.collegedata.com.

- Sign up for a free account to make a simple academic profile for yourself.
- Click "College Match" to search for colleges.
- Click "College Chances" to view your calculated chances of acceptance at any school.
- Click "College Admissions Tracker" to view the profiles of real high school seniors that were accepted to your colleges of interest.

My College Options

One more great site for you to check out. Visit www.mycollegeoptions.org to explore!

Talking to Adults About Your College Choices

In addition to the sites listed above, talk to your parents/guardians, counselors, siblings, coaches and anyone you know that might have some suggestions of great colleges for you.

Explore the websites of any colleges of interest from your results and record them in the College Tracker in this workbook if you think you may want to apply to this college.

College Tracker

Directions: When you find a college of interest be sure to write it down below and during the Practicum we will help you get as much information as possible about them.

Your task is to add at least 5 colleges to your College Tracker each week. AIM High suggests you apply to at least 8 colleges total (two safety schools, four target schools and two reach schools) including at least one safety school and one target school in your home state. By the end of the internship pick one safety school, two target schools and one reach school to which you will apply and email your choices to danielleriley@companies-that-care.org.

What Other Students Say (Weeks 2, 3)

Directions: Hearing from actual college students is an important part of gathering information on a college to decide if you want to apply or attend. Your task is to explore the following websites to see what students are saying about colleges you have added to your College Tracker. When you find interesting comments (both positive and negative) that are relevant to you, summarize them in the appropriate columns in the College Tracker.

Admission Processes (Early vs. Regular vs. Rolling)

As you know, one of the most important things to pay attention to in this whole college prep process is deadlines. Application deadlines are no exception and each college may use a different process. Below are descriptions of the different types of college application deadlines. Each school may offer multiple options.

Early Decision (Binding)

Early Decision deadlines usually occur in November and you usually hear back in December, but be sure to check with each college individually. If you apply to a college early decision you are committed to attend if you are accepted. Recently, there has been debate around this type of admissions process because it means students commit to attending prior to knowing the construct of their financial aid packages. If you do apply to a college early decision be sure to have other applications already sent out or ready to be sent out once you hear back from your Early Decision school. You can only apply to one school Early Decision.

Early Action (non-binding)

Schools with Early Action deadlines allow you to apply in November, hear back in December and not decide until later. Again, each school will have specific deadlines, but this is generally how it goes. It gives you the advantages of knowing early, without the commitment to have to choose a particular school early. A great option if you think you have your mind made up but your decision will depend heavily on your aid package (which comes later). You can apply to multiple schools Early Action.

Regular Decision

This is the most common form of admission used. You apply by a December or January deadline and hear back around April. Apply to as many schools as you want and take your time deciding. You usually have until May to pick one and let the others know you are declining their admission. This gives you the most to sort through different aid packages and even visit your choice schools.

Rolling Admission

Some schools will not have deadlines and will simply review applications as they come in. The good news about this process is that it can take as little as a month to hear back and that admission is still open in the spring. The bad news is that if you wait too long to apply the aid and housing options can be limited.

Waitlists and Deferment

There is a possibility that you will be waitlisted at a school of your choice. This means that you should begin to make alternate plans but know there is a chance you could still get in to the school where you were waitlisted. Call the admissions office to inquire about your position on the waiting list and if there is anything you could do or provide to help your application.

Also know that at most schools you have the option to defer admission for a year. This means if you get accepted you can postpone the start of college until the following year if you so desire.

Requesting Application Fee Waivers

As you know, AIM High suggests applying to at least eight colleges (2 safety schools, 4 target schools and 2 reach schools). Your first thoughts maybe be, "that is a lot of money in application fees," but what you should know is that you may qualify for fee waivers.

Students from low income families that qualify for ACT/SAT fee waivers are also granted four (4) college application fee waivers at participating schools. Be sure to ask each school that you apply to if they participate in the fee waiver program and then ask your college counselor for a Request for Waiver of College Application Fee form to send with your application.

Participating Colleges

A list of colleges participating in the ACT/SAT fee waiver program can be downloaded online at:

http://www.collegeboard.com/prod_downloads/sat/directory-of-collegesfor-sat-program-fee-waivers.pdf

If a College does not participate or you use up all your waivers If a college of choice does not participate or if you have used all four of your fee waivers you can simply request your college counselor to send a note along with your college application explaining your interest in the school but that the application fee is not feasible for you and your family. You can also do this yourself!

Completing the Common Application (Weeks 1, 2, 3)

One of the most important tasks to complete during the AIM High Internship is filling out the Common Application (Common App). The Common App was established as a way to consolidate and create a more efficient college application process for both the applicant and the admissions departments. The Common App allows you to fill out one college application and send it to multiple schools. Nearly 400 schools accept the Common App. You will be filling out the application online but there is a paper copy for reference purposes in the Appendix section of the workbook.

Your task during your Internship is to complete the Common Application. To begin visit www.commonapp.org and under "Apply!" click "Never registered? Click Here." Follow the directions and be sure to record your username and password below. Email your username and password to danielleriley@companies-that-care.org.

My Common App Username:
My Common App Password:

Filling it out online

Here are some tips to make this as smooth as possible:

- Be sure to allow pop-ups on your internet browser, usually under "Preferences."
- Save your work often and logout after each session.
- Type your essays, etc in word processor like Microsoft Word and save them separately somewhere safe. Then copy and paste them into your common app online.

Participating Schools

Nearly 400 schools accept the Common App. A list of these schools can be found at www.commonapp.org.

Please list your online ID or username and passwords to each school you have applied to below. You will need to know this to find out whether you have been accepted

Prep for Data Sections (Week 1)

Your task, in preparation for filling out all the data sections of the Common App, is to take this quiz to get an idea of how much data gathering you will need to do. Put a check next to "Know It" or "Need to Find It" for each item on the survey.

Information	Know It	Need to Find It	Write it out

Prep for the Writing Sections (Week 1)

There are four important writing sections in the common app, the largest being the personal essay. Use the worksheet below to get a better understanding and begin to generate ideas for these sections.

Short Answer	Sh	ort	An	SW	er
--------------	----	-----	----	----	----

What extr	acurricular	activity	or	work	experience	are	you	most	passionat	æ
about? Wh	ıy?

What extracurricular activity or work experience has had the biggest influence on what direction you would like your life to take or what you would like to be when you grow up? Why?

What activity or experience has given you the opportunity to contribute the most to an organization? How did you contribute? Do you plan on continuing this activity through college?

Personal Essay

Please view the Personal Essay section of the Common App (in Appendix section of workbook). Out of the 6 topic choices which topic do you think you could write most passionately about?

For which topic do you thin	k you could tell the	most personal story?
-----------------------------	----------------------	----------------------

Which topic do you think would be hardest?
Fasiest?

	Pick three topics and write down what you would write about for each topic: 1.
	2.3.
Disciplinary History	Have you ever been suspended? Yes No Why?
Additional Information	What hardships have you overcome to succeed in high school (personal, family, community, school, etc.)?
	How did you end up overcoming those hardships?
	Are there any upward trend patterns in your academic record? (i.e. "I started getting A's in science beginning Junior year because I realized that is what I love and want to pursue. It is also what attracts me to your college.)
	What caused these trends?

Are there any downward trend patterns in your academic record? (i.e. "My grades slipped second semester Junior year because my mother got sick and I was took on the responsibility of caring for my younger siblings.")

What caused these trends?

Who Will Recommend Me? (Week 3)

Directions: The Common App and most schools will require at least two letters of recommendation, one from a teacher and one from your school counselor or another school official with whom you have a better relationship. AIM High recommends you get at least two teacher recommendations. This is your opportunity to have some advocate with colleges on your behalf, so pick someone you believe would have multiple positive and personalized things to say about you

Your task, is to identify who you will ask for a letter of recommendation. Answer the questions below to get started. Be sure to view the Teacher Recommendation Form in the Common App (located in the Appendix section of this workbook) to get a sense of how you will be evaluated for a recommendation.

Brainstorming who to ask

Answer the questions below to start brainstorming who you might ask. For all these questions think back as early as 9^{th} grade.

Who has been your favorite teacher?

Which teacher do you think likes you the best?

With which teacher do you have the closest relationship?

Which teacher has seen you grow the most over the years?

What other school officials (counselors, coaches, principals etc.) do know really well that would write you a great letter of recommendation?

Information for Recommender (Week 3)

For Project 6, you have two tasks: First you must complete the following sheets with personal information for your recommender, second you will write a letter of recommendation for one of your peers.

Email a copy of this form to Danielle Riley: danielleriley@companies-that-care.org

Personal Goals

• Why do you want to go to college? What do you want to study? What do you want to do after college?

Academics

- What is your GPA?
- What is your Class Rank?
- If your GPA is lower than a 3.0, please tell me about the academic struggles you faced.

Something Unique About Me

• What do you like best about yourself? Why?

What is your vision of your future?

- Career
- Family
- Hobbies and fun

Describe how your internship has been a valuable life experience.

Contact Me

• Include your name, email, and phone number here.

Writing Your Own Letter of Recommendation

Your second task is to write a 3 paragraph recommendation about yourself as if you were someone else writing about you.

Paragraph 1: Describe yourself and relevant life experiences.

Paragraph 2: Select 2-3 strengths and explain them in great detail with examples.

Paragraph 3: Describe the personal assets you will bring to a college and how that will benefit the college (i.e. leadership, doer, collegiality, etc).

Email your letter of recommendation to: danielleriley@companies-that-care.org

Thank You Note to Mentors

Now that your three week internship is complete it is time to thank the people who made this internship possible – your mentor team! Your final project of the internship is to write and send a thank you note to your mentors. Be sure to include a specific example in each of the following part. Use the following guide for your note.

Part One: What are you thanking them for?

Be sure to include:

- 1. What you got out of the internship, what did you enjoy?
- 2. Recognize what the mentors put into the internship (time, energy, patience, focus, passion. . .)

Part Two: What changed as a result of the internship?

Be sure to include:

- 1. How did the process help with your college application preparation?
- 2. Did it impact your future career goals? How so?
- 3. How did your relationship with your mentor become stronger as a result of the past three weeks?

Part Three: What comes next?

Be sure to include:

- 1. Restate how grateful you are for the internship opportunity.
- 2. Over the past three weeks you met with your mentors frequently, however, during the school year you will not see them as often. How do you plan to stay in touch with them during the school year? What will you need help with during the year? How can your mentors help you work towards your goals?

Part Four: Sign your name

Common Application - All Members

There are now 488 Common Application members in 46 states and the District of Columbia, as well as in France, Germany, Italy, United Kingdom, and Switzerland. They represent an enormously diverse variety of institutions: small and large, public and private, coed and single-sex, highly selective and relatively open enrollment. However, they all share a commitment to the mission of promoting access through holistic admission.
