

Hello, and Welcome to the annual AIM High Career Fair!

Here is your chance to volunteer in a very easy, one time manner, meet some great high school students and other engaged Chicago professionals!

Be a Career Rep for an evening!

AIM High is a long-term structured, more-than-mentoring program dedicated to dramatically improving college graduation rates among urban youth by matching teams of employees with individual, vulnerable, minority high school students to ensure they graduate from college and are prepared for tomorrow's workplace.

On the evening of Wednesday February 20, 2013 Center for Companies That Care and AIM High want to offer you the opportunity to impact tomorrow's workforce today. The AIM High Career Fair is dedicated to exposing approximately 150-200 urban minority high school students to the wide range of career paths they will have access to as college-educated adults.

You will have the opportunity to:

- Speak to high school students about what you do, what excites you about your field, and how your college experience influenced your career path
- Inspire students to be the first in their families to graduate from college!
- Network with other socially engaged employers
- Provide a vision of what the future could be!

When: Wednesday, February 20th from 5:00PM-7:30PM

Where: Chicago Cultural Center, 78 E. Washington Street, Chicago, 60602

Cost: There is no cost to participate. Food will be provided.

What to Bring: Your business cards, your job description, Company brochures, and Company promotional items are ok too. No banners please. Most of all, bring your unique story!

Whether you heard about us from an AIM High Mentor, or just happened to see one of our ads for this event, this is your chance to make a difference! Registration will close February 8th.

Sign up today!

AIM High received some great feedback from our students and mentors, and the 2011 Career Fair was featured on Chicago Tonight! You can view the brief segment here: AIM High Career Fair featured on Chicago Tonight

For more information or questions please contact Syndhia Javier at: (312) 661-1010.